A Victory for Mr. Creecy.

Sometime since C. E. Creecy brought suit against Obadiah Kimmell, administrator of Charles A. Kimmell, before Justice Walter, to recover $66, a claim for legal services rendered, and the same was carried up on certiorari. Yesterday the trial came on before Justice Cox in the circuit court, and concluded with a verdict for Mr. Creecy for concluded with a verdict for Mr. Creecy for the amount claimed. The service ren dered by Creecy was in securing the passage of the bill through Congress giving the old police force the 20 per cent. back pay. The defense put up was that the agreement between the parties expired with the death of Kimmell, and he having died before the bill was passed by Con-gress Creecy was not entitled to recover. The court held that he was entitled to recover for services rendered up to the time of the death of Kimmell. The jury returned a verdict for the full amount claimed.
